NEW YORK, NY 10007

May 14, 2014

Dear Friends:

It is with great pleasure that I welcome everyone to the tenth anniversary celebration of the New York Fire Alarm Association.

For the past decade, the Association has been a critical partner in keeping New Yorkers safe. Properly installed fire alarms have saved countless numbers of lives, and I thank all of the Association's members for lending their knowledge and expertise to ensure that New York City's buildings are well protected. From design to installation, testing to maintenance, inspection and more, the Association is on the front lines of fire safety, educating members on regulations and promoting professional excellence. Tonight, we proudly celebrate your many contributions to our city, and I look forward to working with all of you to build a stronger and safer city.

On behalf of the City of New York, please accept my best wishes for a wonderful evening and continued success.

Sincerely,
